

Annie Barry

Annie's involvement with PMH players started in 2006 with the show West in Jest. She had seen the previous year's show Totally Terrific Toys for the first time having been invited along by a friend and thought that looked like lots of fun.

Her first part was as a show girl and barmaid which was a bit nerve wracking to start with as she had some lines to remember and songs to sing but with great support from others her first experience on stage was really fun and enjoyable.

After that she was hooked and has been involved every year since apart from 2009 when she was overseas and those years when a show couldn't happen for various reasons.

So far Annie has played a snooty sister, a nun and many other parts but her all time favourite was as a parrot in the 2010 production entitled "Marooned Mayhem" . Annie thinks it was the costume which was so bright and colourful and a really fun part to play.

Apart from acting on stage, Annie has been a PMH Players Committee member for a number of years as well as being involved in the PMH Community Choir. This runs usually after the show has finished and gives a group of interested thespians a chance to keep singing culminating in 10 concerts for some rest home residents and family members.

Apart from this Annie also loves spending time with my family and friends, walking, movies, shows, rock and roll dancing, travel and reading.